SHOVED OFF A CAR; SERIOUSLY INJURED

Louis Scouriles, Aged 40, Is In the Memorial Hospital —Other Occupants of the Machine Said to Be Under Arrest

HE WAS IN A TOURING CAR

According to a Statement Made By Scouriles Yesterday to State Policeman Corporal John Tomek, the Arrested Men Are Responsible For His Condition

Louis Scourilis, who conducts a restaurant at Brownsville, lies in the Brownsville General hospital in a critical condition suffering from gaping wounds in the back of the head and possible internal injuries. Seven Greek residents of Brownsville were arrested by Constable Ben Gibson of Monongahela and placed in the Monongahela lockup. According to a statement made by Scourilis yesterday to State Policemen Corporal John Tomek, the arrested men are responsible for his condition.

Scourilis is aged about 40 years and was formerly a resident of Monongahela, having conducted the Boston restaurant there until 1919, when he went to Brownsville.

According to the injured man's statement he was one of a party in a large Hudson tourng car owned and operated by George Laskey, proprietor of a Brownsville restaurant, also. Others in the party were Peter Paneazpoulus, Charles Jafis, John Pounds, Anthony Yanus, Tom Georges, William Metaxakis and Scourilis.

He states that the party arrived in the vicinity of Bentleyville early Sunday morning, where the car was stopped and the occupants alighted. When the men again stepped into the car and it started to leave without Scourilis, he attempted to jump into the machine and was pushed from the running board while the car was speeding and sustained the injuries. He was later removed to the Brownsville General hospital. Yesterday William Alfragannis, of this place went to Monongahela, where he appeared before Alderman R. L. Elwood and preferred a charge of assault and battery against the other occupants of the car. They were arrested.

DO NOT CHANGE MINDS FROM PLEA OF GUILT

Criminal Court, Chicago, July 23—The state will not be satisfied unless Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, millionaire youths, hang for the murder of Robert Franks, school boy, State's Attorney Crowe declared as the trial of the bizarre murder case got under way here today.

Justice Caverly first rearraigned the boys, asking whether they wanted to change their pleas after two days of consideration. The defendants replied that they had not changed their minds.

Crowe asked that the indictment charging kidnaping for ransom be discontinued, and that the trial for murder indictment proceed. Attorneys Buchrach and Darrow of the defense accepted and a wordy wrangle ensued with Justice Caverly who ruled that the trial should be held first on the murder indictment.

Crowe commended his opening address: "During the month of November, December and January the defendants planned and schemed this terrible crime believing they never would be brought to the bar of justice," Crowe said.

The State's attorney said he would show that Leopold and Loeb both had to have justice.

Crowe spoke easily and deliberately holding his arm and occasionally striking the palm of his hand with his first for emphasis in the court room filled to every nook and corner was solid.

Leopold, sitting at the attorney's table, looked off into space and once in a while glanced toward the attorney. Young Loeb seemed more interested, crossing his legs and gazing steadfastly at the state's attorney.

NO BALL GAME TO BE PLAYED

The baseball game scheduled to be played today between the Donora Athletics, a colored team, and the Charleroi Independents has been called off on request of the health authorities.

The reason for the cancelling of the contest is because of the recent smallpox epidemic in Donora, or its environs; principally, we believe among the colored folk, and it is said that as a preventative measure, colored people of Donora and its environs are not alolwed to come to town.

Tussing Is Manager Of Big Sales Force For Hospital Drive

J. Bryant Tussing was selected by Chairman Kerfoot W Daly of the hospital building fund campaign to serve in the capacity of sales manager of the large organization of 280 salesmen and women who with the 50 members of the executive committee will raise $150.000 to build and equip a modern fireproof hospital in North Charleroi.

Chairman Daly stated this morning that Manager Tussing had accepted the position and had already started his work Manager Tussing will have under him seven divisions of four teams each making 28 sales teams in all. Each team will have a captain and each division of four teams will have a commander. Chairman Daly declared this morning that in a day or two he expected to announce the commanders and possibly the captains.

Michael Rosenbloom has accepted the position of chairman of theatre advertising and is arranging to place theatre slides in 12 theatres at least in the valley, advertising without delay the hospital building fund campaign.

The executive committee at a good meeting yesterday noon at the Elks club, passed a motion unanimously stating that all money received on subscriptions would be deposited equally in the three local banks

Chairman Daly also announced that Mrs. J. L. Roberts of Lock No. 4, a director of the hospital for many years and at one time the president of the institution, had been made chairman of the committe on endorsements to secure from various organizations written approval of the building fund campaign.

Manager Tussing who is well known for his public spirit in this community had this to say about the hospital campaign:

"Charleroi, as well as the surrounding towns, is entering upon a very ambitious campaign with the ultimate object of erecting a hospital which will meet the needs of the various communities represented, and which will be first class in every respect."

Hospital accommodations in this section of the valley have been limited for years, although better than they were in former times, when the nearest institution of that character was located in Pittsburgh.

However the industrial growth of this portion of the valley during the past few years has been such as to make the need of an up-to-date hospital for every community, and particularly in districts which are so closely populated as this section of the valley. One big hospital well located would take care of at least half a dozen towns, and as many smaller communities, at a pro rata expense much below that of a hospital located in and for the benefit of one community.

The campaign committee in charge of the plan of action are endeavoring to bring the people of the towns interested to take a broad gauge view of the situation, that the undertaking may be pushed with enthusiasm by all. This is not a one-community affair. It is for the benefit of all, and this fact should appeal to those who have the best interests of their respective towns at heart. Give the hospital a boost.

SEEK TO ENFORCE THE CANINE LAW

The Pennsylvania department of agriculture has declared war on all unlicensed dogs in this county and proposes to use drastic measures against all owners and harborers of dogs in violation of the dog law of 1921. The bureau of animal industry, which is charged with the enforcement of the law, has directed that a thorough canvass be made in this county and that all unlicensed dogs be disposed of in short order.

Damages to sheep from dogs in the county have increased at an alarming rate for the past [illegible] and have reached such proportions that severe measures to curb the evil are imperative. Investigation has shown that during the first six months of the present year the damage done to sheep in the county exceeded in dollars the entire amount paid out in 1923.

James G. Fox, traveling agent for the department at Harrisburg, and J. N. McDowell, field agent for Washington county, have been making investigations in several sections of the county and have brought many prosecutions for violations of the law. Heavy penalties have been imposed and a number of dogs shot for killing sheep. The owners and harborers of dogs, where found, have been compelled to pay the damages and costs for raids on sheep.

Mr. Fox proposes a house to house canvass to ascertain whether dogs are kept according to law, especially at night. He points out that the law requires that all dogs be securely tied up between sunset and sunrise. All violators of this provision of the law will be [illegible]

The agents have spent considerable time in Canton township because of the large number of raids on flocks there. In Amwell township also the sheep raisers have suffered heavily.

The department is determined, says Mr. Fox to use all possible means to prevent this destruction, as dogs in this county have become a menace to the mutton and wool industry. "Dog owners [illegible] proper care of their dogs [illegible] serve the law. If they [illegible] trouble [illegible]

SQUALL ENDING GAME PERMITS ROBINS TO WIN THE CONTEST

Old Man Opportunity severely bruised his weather-beaten knuckles hammering on the door of the Buccaneers yesterday, but his rapping passed unheeded, for the Dodgers were permitted to sneak up from behind and rush through the portal to third place, leaving the Pirates piled up in a promiscuous heap just at the bottom of the first division. Then came a thunderstorm to drench the ball players and put a stop to the afternoon frolic, but the rain took especial pains not to arrive until the regulation five innings had been completed and the score was 4 to 1, with Brooklyn on the winning end.

John Dewey Morrison was in the box for the Brooklyns. He was signed by Ernie Osborne, who was discarded by the Cubs some time ago and picked up by Uncle Wilbert Robinson.

The Corsair curve artist hurried impressively until the fouth chapter when he franked Andy High, the first batter to face him. Until this base on balls was given, none of the Robins had obtained a toe-hold on the initial bag. Before the side was retired, another pass and a lucky bunt single had filled the stations. An out helped one of the three runners to reach the goal and then a little base thump sent a couple more tourists across.

DEMOCRATS WORRIED OVER CANDIDACY

Dark Harbor, Maine, July 23.—The candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the presidency, is apparently giving concern to some of the democratic leaders, if one interpretation placed on the remarks of Homer Cummings, Conneticut National committeeman, is correct.

Cummings had lengthy conference with John W. Davis, Democratic nominee, here yesterday and admitted that entrance of La Follette into the race "has completely changed the situation."

Cummings has not made any appointment with Davis, and arrived here shortly before noon, coming up from Camden, where he is staying on a yacht.

Davis was to continue work on his acceptance speech today and in the afternoon he expected to play nine holes of golf.

Tomorrow he is to get an outline of the situation in Maine, where there is a fight on in the Republican organization, from William R. Pattengall, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, and from Fulton J. Redmond, who is running for United States senator on the same ticket.

Davis began the dictation of his speech to his stenographers today, but it is by no means assured that this draft will be the final form. Davis thinks rapidly and clearly, apparently, for he sits in a chair and dictates as rapidly as his stenographer, as though he were in conversation.

Mrs. Davis has not taken any part in the preparation of the speech so far and it is doubtful if she knows at this time what her husband will say, but she will before any one else does, for Davis will "try it out" on her.

The candidate's wife joined him on the golf links yesterday for the first time, and probably will be out with him again today.

A HOME WE ALL FEAR

If an automobile runs over us or we meet with some other kind of serious accident we are rushed to the best hospital our friends can get us to. We do not ask for an inexperienced doctor—we have a competent surgeon. We ask for the best service of the best physician at the best hospital.

If illness of any kind overtakes friend or family we want them given the best treatment and care they can get. That is the only way to safeguard life. We want them given the best treatment and the best care it is possible to give them. The best hospital and the best doctor are none too good for them.

The point is that the most competent, most thrifty and most successful of us oftentimes forget that some day we may need a hospital in sickness or accident. We usually place all the responsibility on the doctor, but a hospital is the doctor's workshop and unless we have a good hospital a good doctor is handicapped.

A hospital is an institution for the reception, care and medical treatment of the sick or wounded. Those who have never been there are apt to think of a hospital as a place to send flowers. But when someone near and dear to us gets seriously sick, then the hospital becomes a home we all fear.

A hospital is a place where God helps the sick and wounded to get well. There is one home that no one likes to go to and that is a home for sick folks—a hospital. But when we need it, we need it badly.

For those unfortunate enough to be sick or hurt, a good hospital is the safest and cheapest place to be.

Suppose there were no Charleroi-Monessen Hospital and an automobile accident made it imperative to immediately operate on your child. What would you do? Take it to Pittsburgh? Would it live that long? Would it get well then? Are you sure the time lost would not be a barrier to restored health?

A hospital, where anyone can go anytime they are sick or hurt enough to need day and night service by trained nurses and able doctors, is one of any community's greatest needs. A public hospital is an institution operated and maintained by the citizens of a community—a home, if you please, where the sick and injured of this community may, more speedily, be returned to health with the greatest safeguards for recovery; where the cases may more accurately be diagnosed and more efficiently treated and, all in all, at a lesser cost than anywhere else.

Charleroi and the towns around it need a new hospital. The little frame residence that has served as a hospital for this community is dangerous, out-of-date, and far from being large enough. It is a serious situation—one that deserves the thought of every citizen.

We must raise $150,000 to get a new hospital, one that will be fireproof, large enough and in every other way prepared to save the lives of the seriously sick or wounded of this community.

It is not a question of what it will cost us to subscribe the money to build this hospital. The question we must everyone answer for ourselves is—

Dollars or Lives?

AN ENTERING WEDGE.

The purchase of the realty, owned by the McKean-Sphar heirs, by the Charleroi Home Building Company, is another entering wedge in Charleroi civic progress. It is an eventuality that promises much, just at a time when the borough and community needs it most. There is sufficient acreage for all practical purposes, and when surveyed and subdivided into lots, will afford an unexcelled opportunity for those people who agents, many of them for years. Landlords and agents, while they have their sphere, will individually and collectively, encourage and give countenance to efforts on the part of people to own their own homes. In fact, agents, in particular, owing to the dearth of houses, have been and are using, their persuasive powers in the effort to make sales of properties.

This action on the part of agents is legitimate and commendable, but many people who would like to buy find themselves unable, financially, to handle many of the properties that are on the market. Improved property buying, liken unto other business propositions, is easy, providing a man has coin of the realm; but numbers of people here are handicapped in this regard; and in the premises the Charleroi Home Building Company steps into the breach and offers, or will offer, to assist them in owning their own home.

The ground secured by the company is admirably adapted for home-building purposes, and can be beautified for as desirable homes as can be found in the borough. It will soon be put in shape for the buyers' attention, and the lots will be sold only for building, and not for speculative purposes.

Fortunate, indeed, is the borough in having men of financial responsibility and business acumen to handle the lots' proposition; men who are not actuated through mercenary motives, but truly imbued with a desire to see Charleroi attain the proportions she should attain in population, wealth, and influence. By the organization of the company, the dearth of houses in the community gives promise of being relieved, if not entirely obviated; and further, there is hope for the poor man, through the Charleroi Home Building Company, to become the possessor of his own home.

The old project of building a railroad tunnel under the English Channel has been revived and it is said that the work would cost only about $155,000,000, which is less than has been readily voted for American city subways. The original objection that France might invade England, or England might invade France, through such a tunnel may have less weight in this age of air fleets and modern navies. Could it not be arranged to flood the tunnel at need and give the invader a worse experience than that of the army of a certain Pharoah in the Red Sea?

Former Governor Warmoth of Louisiana, one of the carpetbaggers of the reconstruction period, now 82 years old, is said to have gone to Cleveland to notify the Republican managers that in only two Southern states—Arkansas and Texas, is there a bona fide Republican organization, and that in the others the so-called organizations are merely for the purpose of getting patronage and the accompanying perquisites. Whether what is pretty generally known was news to the said managers is not stated.

Republican leaders and newspapers that in 1920 bitterly complained of the "autocrat" in the White House now bring all their complaint against Congress and seem only to fear that Mr. Coolidge will not be autocratic enough. Which means, for one thing, that the Senate's investigations have caused a great disturbance.

Great Britain is shortly to pay into the United States treasury another $60,000,000 of her war debt. No doubt there are murmurs, for the burden is heavy for a nation otherwise so tax ridden, but it has been generally accepted as essential for British credit standing.

A BALLAD ON WEEDS.

The weeds are growing higher and higher;
When will the weeds be cut?

When will the weeds be cut?

We have to bawl out this same old ditty—
When will the weeds be cut?

Walter P. Chrysler Says Maxwell Now Excels Among Fours

In the four-cylinder field, the good Maxwell is now duplicating the revolutionary results which the Chrysler Six has already registered among the sixes.

That in brief is the story of the recent developments which, in my opinion, now stamp the Maxwell a most remarkable four-cylinder car.

These new results are so vital and so valuable that they put the good Maxwell far beyond your previous conception of four-cylinder possibilities.

Have you ever driven a four-cylinder car in which the last noticeable trace of vibration is gone?

Well, that's what you'll find in the good Maxwell of today, with its floating platform spring suspension of the motor.

I don't know that you can appreciate how much this means in new steering, handling and riding ease and far longer life, unless you experience it in the good Maxwell yourself.

As you go along, you will find the Maxwell riding the way you thought only far heavier cars could ride, and displaying a nimbleness that makes you wonder why anyone wants more than Maxwell gives.

Now turn to the other side—costs and upkeep and so on, which are materially reduced by the unusually high proportion of costly alloy steels.

You may not know that Maxwell owners are now averaging 24 miles per gallon of gasoline.

There are a dozen other things I could tell about, but do you know of any four that matches up to Maxwell in these respects?

TAXI FARE IS REDUCED IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, July 23.—Ten cent taxi fare came to New York today as a result of a rate fight, four big companies cutting their prices, effective immediately.

The flat reductions announced by the Mogul, Luxor, Premier and U. S. Cab companies, caused hurried changes in taxi meters and mean that the straight rates are now ten cents a half-mile—applying to the first as well as succeeding miles.

Individual owners and dissenting companies are to feel the full brunt of a price war by the four big concerns, which will bring pressure to bear to force a lower rate all around.

The New York taxi rates will be [illegible] al by a newly formed company to get a rate of 25 cents a mile precipitated the drop.

"GET OUT THE VOTE" CAMPAIGN IS ON

Under the authority of 200 leaders representing 17 State organizations and millions of Pennsylvania men and women voters, the State Central "Get-out-the-vote" Campaign Committee will meet for organization in the League House, 1725 Spruce street, Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning, July 29, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. John O. Miller, chairman of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters.

At this meeting plans for the general campaign, including the tour of the "Get-out-the vote" Caravan across the State in October, will be definitely decided upon. Furthermore, explained Mrs. Miller, the machinery for setting up county "Get-out-the-vote" committees, for carrying out the program of the state central committee, will be set in motion, so that the campaign, culminating in the October Caravan, will reach the "heart and mind of every man and woman voter in the Commonwealth."

Mrs. Charles M. Lea of Devon, the Director of the Caravan, is arranging conferences with men and women state leaders, so as to insure a brilliant turn out of automobiles for the Caravan. Mrs. Lea intimated that that she had some spectacular events in mind as an accompaniment of the Caravan. Washington, for example, said Caravan leaders, is to be called on to assist in this great patriotic movement by sending fleets of aeroplanes and possibly the great air liner, the "Shenandoah" to tour the state in the air as the automobiles travel the roads. Incidentally, said Mrs. Lea, the Caravan will afford organizations and individuals a unique opportunity to "See their state."
